BETHEL DEMOCRATS DISCUSS FUEL OIL/ELECTION PLANS AT SUNDAY MEETING

Bethel Democrats met on Sunday evening at the home of their candidate for the House of Representatives, Emily Saunders. Mrs. Saunders reported on the results of her recent poll of Bethel fuel oil dealers regarding present and future supplies and prices. All dealers reported adequate supplies at present but found it difficult to commit themselves as to the future because of unpredictable weather and policy decisions of the major oil producers. Assembled Democrats enjoyed the warmth of the fireside as the thermostat was set at 58°.

Campaign business occupied most of the meeting. A slate of ballot clerks for Election Day, Nov. 5, was finalized for presentation to the Town Office and assignments for poll-watching and other duties were made. Mrs. Saunders announced the following campaign coordinators for district towns: Andover, Violet Fraser; Bryant Pond, Alice Johnson; Hanover, Herb Adams; Milton, Scott Billings; Newry, Lisa Fox; Sumner, Dwight Stevens.

Mrs. Saunders will continue her daily campaigning through the district with time allotted for several special events.

On Sunday, Oct. 27, she will be the guest of honor at a gathering for staff members of SAD 44 given by Virginia Kelly and Mary Newcomb at the Kelly's on Church Street, Bethel. Mrs. Saunders also received an invitation to participate in the Youth Consortium to be held in South Paris for the purpose of discussing the coordination of youth services in Oxford County.

MAKE HALLOWEEN A SAFE AND FUN NIGHT — OCT. 31

It's that time of year again when "trick or treat" is a familiar tune. Let's make this a unique year—a safe year.

A few tips for parents:

1. Dress your child in a light colored costume so he can easily be seen in the dark.
2. Keep your child in a well lighted area and away from heavily traveled areas.
3. Parents of small children should escort them to the proper areas.
4. Equip those participating with a flashlight or a battery powered jack-o-lantern.
5. Light your home if you want the youngsters to visit you.

And to the drivers that night:

Remember—all that is on their mind is that next treat—

1. Drive slowly and carefully.
2. Watch by parked cars that no one darts out between.
3. Be cautious backing up.

On Oct. 31 you will be confronted with difficult-to-see costumes and vision-impairing masks.

WATCH—BE ALERT!

S. A. D. 44 BOARD ACCEPTS RESIGNATION/SPLITS GRADE 6 AT MONDAY SESSION

The board of directors of SAD 44 held a regular meeting in the Lecture Hall at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening.

The board accepted the resignation of Paul J. Burke as guidance counselor at Telstar Regional High School. Mr. Burke had been a staff member at Telstar since September of 1973.

In action taken to alleviate an overcrowded grade 6 condition at the R. C. Foster School in Newry, the board voted to establish a sixth grade section at the Telstar facility and employ a teacher for the self-contained classroom. Since September of 1973 the sixth grade which normally would be at the Crescent Park School has been located at the R. C. Foster building. This year's enrollment of 68 students created a situation at the school that severely taxed its facilities. Students assigned to the grade 6 division at Telstar will reportedly be from the Locke Mills-East Bethel area and it is believed that the change will be in effect next Monday.

Mainly because of fiscal limitations the board voted to delay the initial bituminous concrete surfacing of the repaired section of the Telstar student parking area until fiscal year 1976.

The board was in receipt of a request from Glenn Bangs, SAD 44 music instructor, for sabbatical leave during the 1975-1976 school year.

The board accepted the bid for appraisal of real estate and contents of district-owned property from the General Adjustment Bureau of Augusta, including an updating renewal clause for a five year period.

Board members not present Monday evening were: Leon Akers, Andover; Margaret Wight, Newry; and Milton Mills, Woodstock.

Preceding the regular board meeting, a special meeting for the purpose of an executive session on personnel matters, was held.

CO-OP CORNER

Debbie Mundt, a junior, a new student to the Co-Op Program, is employed by James Hudson, DVM, as a veterinary assistant.

Debbie's activities on the job include: answering the phone; taking animals to and from the kennel; making appointments; filing cards; holding animals for Dr. Hudson while he gives them anesthesia, clippings, etc.; observing during surgery; and post surgery observation of the animals. She also goes on farm calls.

She enjoys working with Dr. Hudson, feeling the two most challenging aspects of the job are (1) answering the phone and listening to people who talk fast or mumble and (2) handling animals.

Miss Mundt would like to go on in the veterinary science. WHY? She has an interest in animals and science. Debra believes Co-Op will give her some knowledge of the veterinary sciences, work experience, and human relations experience. She feels Co-Op will help her decide if this is what she really wants to do.

Recreational activities that Debbie enjoys are biking, hiking, swimming and fishing. She likes to read books of all kinds, and enjoys drawing.

A life long resident of this district, Debbie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mundt, Bethel.

NORTH PARIS

Eveline Barrett, Corres.
Mildred Hazelton and Irene Richardson, Sumner, visited Mrs. Llewellyn Buck of Auburn. Pauline Perham, South Paris, spent Saturday evening and Sunday with Mildred.

Mrs. Terry Elliott's eye is on the gain. She doesn't go to the doctor's again until Nov. 1. She can wear her prescription glasses now instead of colored ones.

John O'Hearon and Herbert Stevens have 10 pigs of various sizes and colors. Occasionally they take a walk either up or down street and it makes one laugh to see them walk on the side of the road.

Doris Lawrence and Eveline went to Pin Hook on Saturday to the food and rummage sale. They had a chance to chat and visit with old neighbors and friends, and found that they still have good cooks in Pin Hook. The sale benefited the Chapel Repair Fund.

HEAD START

On Friday, Oct. 18, the three Head Start staff: Judy Bean, Sandra Savage, and Louise Chapman, along with two present parents, Mary Tyler, Gilead, and Scott Billings, Bryant Pond, attended the Statewide Head Start Convention held at CMVTI in Auburn. It was a full day, consisting of group work shops, discussing fund raising for the Head Start program and listening to three candidates for governor. The latter being quite informative as well as interesting! We heard views from Stan Leen, Jim Longley, and George Mitchell. The most important thing discussed by Directors, Staff and Parents was the Wagon Pull. What is a Wagon Pull? Well, all I will tell you now is—1. It's a fund raising project; 2. It's done for and by Head Start parents and 3. It's gonna be fun! If any of you caught channel six news on Saturday evening you saw a preview of what will be coming, not only to Bethel,

How to Make More on Your Savings in the Long Run

If you're like most people, you have some sort of savings account. And you may be earning as much as 5 1/4% simple annual interest. But if you've got all your savings in a single account, Casco Bank may be able to show you a way to get more for your money.

It's Casco's 2-in-1 savings idea. And the way it works is simple. You keep part of your savings in a day-in/day-out account where you can make deposits or withdrawals as often as you wish. And you keep your more permanent savings in a savings certificate where you earn a higher rate of interest.

For example, if you put $1,000 in a Four Year Savings Certificate, you earn 7 1/4% simple annual interest. With Casco's daily compounding, your actual annual yield is even higher.

Of course, should you withdraw money ahead of time from a term savings plan, there's a substantial interest penalty and you should find out the details before you make a commitment. But if you can make more from your money, isn't it silly not to?

Stop by your Casco office and ask how you can do better in the long run.

We're always thinking...

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Collis Morgan, Corres.

Nature has again drawn upon a generous palette and has kept the leaves in patterns of loveliness. Blue haze touched the distant hills and deep purple dressed the mountain tops during the days.

One early morning, through the tranquil air, I heard the wild geese as distance softened their lonely cadenced calls. Later in the day as I worked doing my last garden-cleaning, a dozen of them came, to rest on the pond. They remained for the afternoon; busy as they worked along the shore.

The chill in the air was penetrating because it was the first real chill of the autumn. There were times of whistling winds, rising suddenly out of perfect peace, whipping leaves across the lawn. But as I worked I found the air invigorating. Gusts waned and all was calm again.

Another day . . . "I've stood at the top of the highest hill With the wind blowing sharp in my face.

I've marveled at nature so wondrous and grand At the joy of this quiet place, High on the top of a climbing hill

Close to the shining dawn, Morning aglow in the heavens so fair A treasure to gaze upon."

Garnett A. Schultz As I write this the new moon makes a brightening of the sky as it looks down reflecting its shape and beauty in the pond. There's a soft blanket of silence over all the forest. A twinkling star pins itself upon a cloud. The beauty of the night is breathtaking. There's a path to the pond, the pond itself . . . all basking in silvery glory.

Mrs. Maude E. Kimball

MRS. MAUDE E. KIMBALL

Mrs. Maude Ethel Kimball passed away late Monday, Oct. 21, 1974, at the Pike's Hill Nursing Home where she had been a patient the past ten days. She was born in Albany, Me., August 14, 1885 the oldest daughter of Francis and Winifred Farmer Emery. She attended Albany schools and was a former member of the Grange and Farm Bureau.

She was married to Leslie Kimball on Nov. 19, 1901. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1951. Mr. Kimball died in 1953 from injuries received in a fall at his home. They made their home on the farm in Albany all their lives together. Since giving up her home Mrs. Kimball lived with her children except when she was confined to nursing homes. For the past few years she was tenderly cared for by her daughters, Mrs. Eva Barker and Mrs. Florence Graves.

Sadly missing her will be three sons: Arthur of Oxford; Clarence of Bethel; Lawrence of Fairfield, Pa.; six daughters: Mrs. Eva Barker and Mrs. Florence Graves of Oxford; Mrs. Merle Stone and Mrs. Eleanor Frechette of South Paris; Mrs. Mildred Bennett and Mrs. Helen Jewell of Lovell. Her eldest son, Ralph, passed away nearly three years ago. She also leaves 22 grandchildren, 41 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild, besides several nieces and nephews and a cousin, Mrs. Sarah Saunders of Skillington.

Funeral services were held at the Greenleaf funeral home this Thursday afternoon, October 24 with Rev. Thomas Caton officiating. Committal services and interment at Songo Cemetery, Albany.

Serving as bearers were six grandsons, Larry Barker of Ellsworth, N. Y., Elwood Stone and Marc Bean of South Paris; Norris Bennett of Lovell; Howard Jewell of East Stoneham and Lloyd Grever of Oxford.

In lieu of flowers, friends wishing to do so may make a donation to the Songo Cemetery Fund, c/o the Bethel Savings Bank.

A Tribute

With the passing of Maud Emery Kimball we lose a fine woman and a respected citizen. Her children mourn a devoted and much loved mother.

In half a century she and her husband, Leslie, were prominent farmers, apple growers, and dealers in lumber. They were parents of a large family of healthy and happy children.

The children attended Gould Academy and Maud and Leslie were popular in the village where many patrons valued their maple syrup and maple sugar, their hillside-grown apples, and their home-cured bacon and hams. Housewives used to say that two of the Kimball Northern Spies would make an apple pie.

After the death of her husband Maud closed her Songo Pond home and lived with married children. She was content and loved her in-laws as if they were her own. Hers was the proud and serene satisfaction of successful children and fine grandchildren. She leaves many happy memories.

BORN

In Lewiston, Oct. 12, to Mr. and Mrs. Burton Mills (Debbie Kimball) of Bethel, a son Jeremiah Moses.
